THE FORUM

Stratford
FESTIVAL
2013

A Festival Within the Festival

The Forum is our new series of activities and events designed to generate lively and good-hearted discourse on ideas and issues arising from our productions. Through debates, talks, concerts, meals, hands-on workshops and more, we invite you to discover the multitude of ways in which the works presented on our stages relate to and illuminate the world at large.

The Forum brings together some of the foremost leaders, thinkers and cultural figures of our time, and also offers a great opportunity to get up close and personal with our own current acting company as they open up the doors to their life in the arts.

Don't miss this chance to add a whole new dimension to your Stratford visit: more than 150 Forum events are taking place this season, many of them free and most priced under $25. For the most up-to-date information, visit our Box Office or stratfordfestival.ca/forum.
